INTRODUCTION TO THE CAREER PLANNING PROCESS

THE CAREER & EDUCATION PLANNING PROCESS

WHY CAREER PLANNING IS NECESSARY

In today's rapidly changing world, new career paths are constantly unfolding, traditional ones are being changed and shifts are taking place in occupation skills and educational requirements. These changes are a result of new technology, modifications in organizational design and the trend towards global business operations. With all these changes, you might ask "What is the point of planning ahead by developing a career plan?" The point is to be ready for change with a set of career goals, strategy and options based on your interests, personality, values and skills. Once you have a plan, you will be equipped to manage your career and take advantage of changes in the economy and job market rather than becoming a victim of change.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR PLANNING AND MANAGING YOUR CAREER?

Planning your career is totally your responsibility. It is up to you to do the planning and take the necessary actions to obtain the education and training that will support your career plans. However, you can get help. For example, your advisor or career counselor can advise you about.

- Your career planning strategy
- How to find information you need
- How to get around obstacles
- How to go about planning your current and long-term education and training

Keep in mind, throughout your life, you are the one who must make all the decisions about your career and you must produce the results that support your goals. It's up to you to control and navigate your own destiny.

THE IMPORTANCE OF SELF ASSESSMENT

Understanding yourself is a critical aspect of career and educational exploration and planning. The more you know about your career related interests, values, skills, personality type and preferences, the better equipped you will be to identify the career fields, major areas of study and training programs, and education pathways that are compatible with your personal attributes. The FOCUS 2 CAREER system will help you develop an accurate self assessment of your personal qualities:

- Your Work Interests are a reflection of the kinds of work related activities and tasks you most enjoy doing.
- Your Personality Type is a description of how you react to certain situations and people and how you make decisions, organize information and go about solving problems.
- Your Values are a description of what is most important to you in your life. For example, you might value earning a lot of money, helping other people, being creative and artistic, having a secure and steady job, etc.
- Your Skills are a reflection of your talents and the types of things you easily learn and perform well.
- Your Leisure Time Interests are a reflection of the kinds of leisure related activities you most enjoy doing.

THE BIG PICTURE: YOUR LIFE PLAN

It is a good idea to plan your career based on the big picture, that is, your life plan. Ask yourself, “What kind of life do I want to lead?” As you can imagine, your career decisions will dramatically impact your lifestyle. Your occupation will influence your

- income
- work hours
- travel
- job security
- colleagues and friends
- leisure time
- where you live

Questions you need to ask yourself about your life plan are:

- What principles am I committed to as a person? I.e. family, security, prestige, accomplishments, etc.
- What kinds of experiences do I want in my life? I.e. travel, adventure, cultural, etc.
- What personal talents do I want to develop? I.e. music, art, language, communication, intellectual, etc.
- How do I like to spend my leisure time? I.e. community services, recreation and sports, travel, etc.

Finally, you must ask yourself whether the occupational goals and educational avenues you are considering will be supportive of your life plan.

ROLES YOU PLAY IN YOUR LIFE

Being a worker will be interconnected with other roles you play in life. Examples of roles that are affected by your career could include being a parent, a community citizen, a student, a recreationist. Your career reaches beyond being a wage earner in your chosen occupation. For example, an easy way to see how your choice of an occupation affects your future roles is to consider the following scenario. If you were to be a wage earner, parent, and student then clearly your occupational income must be sufficient to pay for the expenses incurred in these other roles. Most people are primarily involved with two or three roles at a time. Which roles you are focusing on depends upon your age and life stage. For example, in college, your principle roles may be as student and recreationist. Later in life, your principle roles may be as worker and parent. The point is that throughout your life you will play a combination of work, leisure, study, homemaking, and citizen roles that are intermixed. Therefore, when you make decisions about your career, you should take into consideration the effect of these career decisions on your other areas of your life.

THE LIFE-CAREER RAINBOW

Refer to the Life-Career Rainbow Chart below to get a better picture of the kind of roles you may play at various ages and stages of your career and life.

The two outer arcs of the Life-Career Rainbow show you the Life Stages you may move through during your career and life, and your approximate age in each. The lower arcs of the Life-Career Rainbow show you the different roles you may engage in while in different Life Stages and Ages.

SUMMING IT ALL UP

Here is how to take the 'Big Picture' into consideration when making career and education plans:

First, when choosing an occupation, think about which of your options will most likely provide you with self-fulfillment in all your roles, not only in the present, but in the future.

Second, periodically dust off your career plans, take stock of yourself and what's happening in your life, and then make adjustments in your career as needed. For example, changes in your career field may require that you learn new skills, or changes in your personal interests or values or social or family situations may affect your career aspirations, etc.

BENEFITS OF HAVING A CAREER PLAN

Once you have established your career goals you will be better able to make choices about your college major and minor areas of study and the courses you should take. Your career goals will also enable you to make decisions about personal developmental activities while in college such as internships, volunteer work and summer jobs. Research has shown that there are many significant advantages and benefits of having career plans. College students with career plans:

- Are less likely to make costly changes in their college education plans and are more likely to graduate on time.
- Are more confident and satisfied with their choice of an occupation and major area of study.
- Achieve higher college grades because their decisions about their education path are compatible with and are based on their personal interests, values and abilities.

- Earn higher incomes in their entry jobs

While in college, it's a good idea to map out an action plan that leads you to your goals. The plan can serve as a reference that you and your advisors can monitor and adjust as needed.

SEEKING EXPERT ADVICE: CAREER COUNSELING

In conjunction with using FOCUS 2 CAREER, you may want to meet with a career counselor, mentor or advisor.

Be prepared to summarize and ask questions concerning:

- Your career related interests, values, personality and abilities.
- Your present occupational, educational and college/training goals and plans.
- Responsibilities or obstacles that are interfering with your career and college/training decision making.
- Your life plan, life style desires and strategy to achieve your goals.

Your career advisor can give you ideas and information to help you:

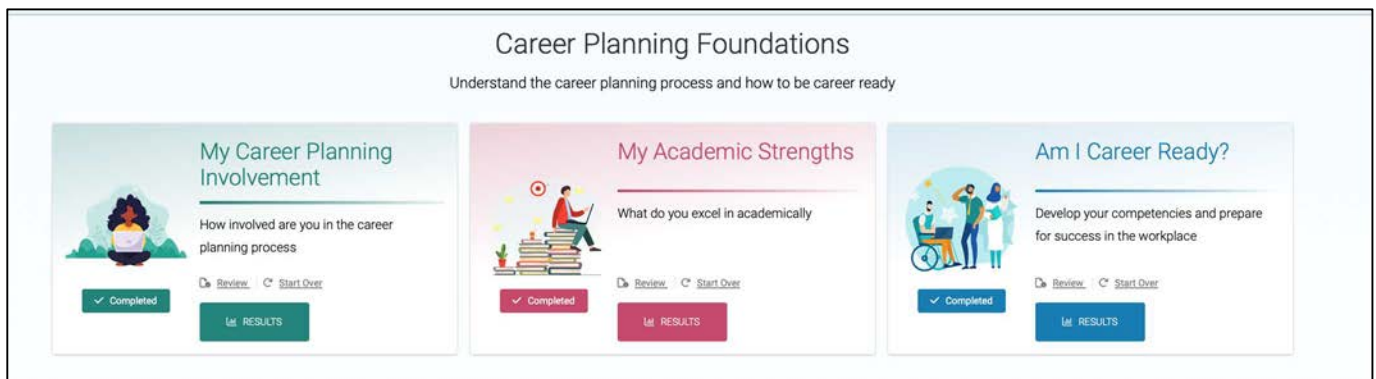

- Verify the rationale of your career decisions and education plans.
- Help you develop your long term educational pathway.
- Pinpoint your personal development needs that are important for you to achieve your goals.
- Suggest ways to get around any obstacles that are interfering with your decision making and planning.
- Formulate strategies and action plans to achieve your career and educational objectives

UNDERSTANDING YOUR FOCUS 2 CAREER PORTFOLIO RESULTS

After you use FOCUS 2 CAREER, it can be beneficial to review and discuss your FOCUS 2 CAREER results with your career counselor. The following module will help you to understand and use your results.

Be sure you have saved your favorite occupations and majors. By eliminating or saving occupations and majors you are making decisions. Narrative descriptions of your attributes are included in each of the assessment results and are summarized in your career portfolio. You should have a good understanding of your career relevant attributes and how they will be an asset to you in the world of work. Your assessment summaries can be helpful to refer to while writing cover letters or preparing for interviews.

Refer to your FOCUS 2 CAREER Portfolio results as you complete the following exercises.

MY CAREER PLANNING INVOLVEMENT ASSESSMENT

The My Career Planning Involvement assessment measures your level of involvement in activities that support self-awareness, career exploration and your satisfaction with your career planning. Your results are displayed graphically and verbally.

- Self Assessment (Self) It is important that you are actively involved in self-assessment because it is the most important and the first step in career planning.
- Career Exploration (Exploration) It is important that you are actively involved in career exploration because it will help you to discover and understand career options.
- Career Planning Satisfaction (Planning) Your career planning satisfaction reflects how ready you are to engage in career planning activities. Obstacles that could interfere with your ability to plan could be financial, family responsibilities, etc. If your Planning score is low it would be wise for you to seek help from a career counselor to help you resolve your planning concerns.

What support services are available to you at your college to assist you with career planning readiness?

What action steps will you take to increase your scores in your career planning status assessment?

ACADEMIC STRENGTHS

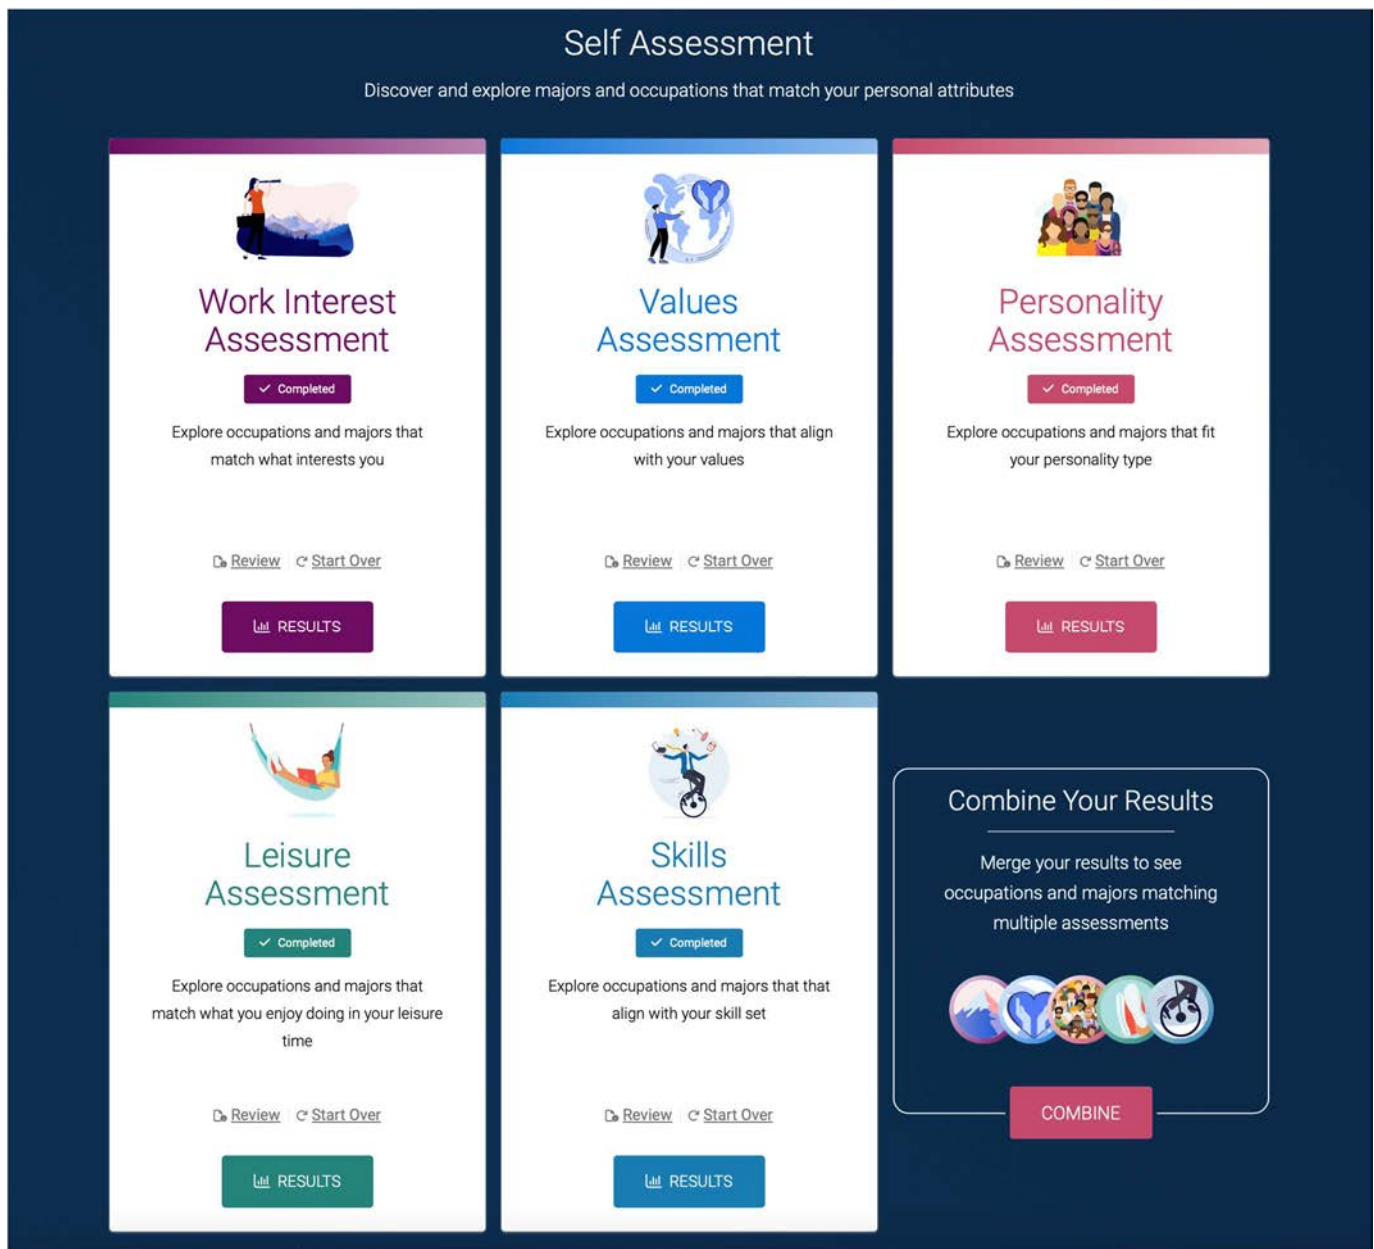

What is your action plan to take advantage of your academic strengths and address any academic weaknesses that could impact your education plans and future career?

AM I CAREER READY?

The National Association for Colleges and Employers (NACE) has identified 8 competencies that will give you a professional edge. Employers want to hire applicants who have these in-demand skills and strengths. They are: Critical Thinking, Communication, Teamwork, Leadership, Leadership, Technology, Leadership, Professionalism, Career and Self Development, Equity and Inclusion.

Which competencies do you need to work on the most?

What is your action plan to develop these competencies?

SELF ASSESSMENTS

Several self-assessments are available to you in FOCUS 2 CAREER. The results of each self-assessment include occupations and supporting majors at your college that match your personal attributes. Self-Assessment is an important first step in selecting a major, choosing an occupation, planning your career and doing a job search. Pay attention to the descriptions of your personal attributes in each of yourself assessments. Being able to articulate and discuss your work interests, values, personality type and skills to a potential employer is an important part of a fruitful job search.

Work Interest Assessment: The FOCUS 2 CAREER work interest assessment identifies and matches your work interests to occupations and supporting majors at your college. The bar graph displayed in your results shows the strength of each of your work interests.

Historically, the assessment of work interests has been the focal point of the career planning process. The work interest assessment measures yourself reported career interests using a nationally recognized standardized instrument using the RIASEC scales developed by John Holland. In the sample graph below the top 3 work interests are Investigate, Realistic, and Conventional (IRC). A person's top 3 work interests make up their Holland Code and can be matched to occupations that have similar Holland Codes.

SAMPLE WORK INTEREST PROFILE

The Holland Code for this sample is IRC (Investigative, Realistic, and Conventional)

The average score for each work interest is also shown as a number ranging from 0 to 100 where

0=Low Interest

50=Moderate Interest

100=High Interest

The descriptions below the bar graph summarize each of the Holland Code work interests.

Investigative: "The Thinkers"

People in the investigative category often have a strong desire to understand cause and effect and solve puzzles and problems. They often work in jobs that are scientific in nature. Their work often involves the analysis of data, using formulas, graphs, and numbers. Investigative types typically prefer to work independently, and with minimum supervision. People in this category generally enjoy using computers, solving math problems, interpreting formulas, and thinking abstractly.

Realistic: "The Doers"

People in the realistic category often prefer to work with objects and things. They are likely to enjoy creating things with their hands and using tools and machines. Some prefer large, powerful machines like tractors, while others prefer precision machinery such as X-ray or electronic equipment. People in this category generally enjoy being physically active, repairing equipment, rebuilding cars, fixing electrical things, solving mechanical problems, playing sports, working outdoors, and using their hands.

Conventional: "The Organizers"

People in the conventional category often prefer orderly, systematic work. Work tasks often include keeping records, and organizing written and numerical materials according to a plan. They like to see things run efficiently and smoothly, which means they will pay attention to administrative details. They generally enjoy keeping accurate records, organizing, working with numbers, and using a computer.

Enterprising: "The Persuaders"

People in the enterprising category often prefer activities selling and promoting. They enjoy influencing others and being in a leadership position. They often use their skills to influence others. They often like competitive activities and are often self-confident, talkative, and energetic. They generally enjoy discussing politics, selling and promoting, having power and status, giving talks and speeches, and leading groups.

Social: "The Helpers"

People in the social category prefer to work with others. They tend to be highly verbal, express themselves well, and get along well in groups. Social types typically prefer the team approach to problem solving. People in the social category often describe themselves as cooperative, friendly, and understanding. They generally enjoy teaching, caring for others, volunteering, mediating disputes, meeting new people, and working in groups.

Artistic: "The Creators"

People in the artistic category prefer to be expressive. They like the opportunity to create new things and be innovative. They typically do not like structure or conformity. They prefer to use their imagination and be creative. People in this category generally enjoy activities such as: writing, poetry, photography, designing, singing, acting, dancing, painting, attending theaters and exhibits, and reading.

What is your Holland Code? _____

Describe the characteristics of your Holland Code type (top three work interests) and the types of work activities that typically appeal to people with these work interests.

Top Work Interest (description and type of work found appealing)

Second Work Interest (description and type of work found appealing)

Third Work Interest (description and type of work found appealing)

Personality Assessment

The FOCUS 2 CAREER personality assessment utilizes Carl Jung's theory of personality and the research insights surrounding the use of the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator. The assessment measures how a person likes to focus his/her attention, prefers to acquire information, handle information, look at the world, and make decisions. Your personality type is matched to occupations and supporting majors at your college.

Describe the characteristics of your personality and the types of work activities that typically appeal to your personality type.

Skills Assessment

A skill is defined as the ability to perform an activity proficiently. A skill can be acquired through education, work experience and job training or can be the result of a natural ability. Your skills are matched to occupations and the majors at your college that will support the occupations.

Describe your top three skills and the types of work that use these skills.

Values Assessment

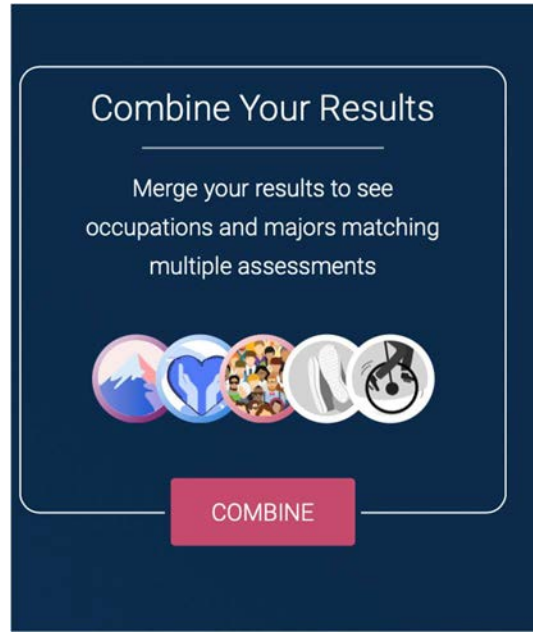

An assessment of your values enables you to focus on what is important to you in work and your life. Your values are matched to occupations that you may find satisfying, based on the similarity between your work values (such as achievement, autonomy, and conditions of work) and the work values associated with various occupations.

Describe your top three work values and the types of work that encompass your work values.

Leisure Interest Assessment

The leisure interest assessment identifies your top leisure interests and matches your leisure interests to occupations and supporting majors at your college.

Describe your top three leisure preferences and how they relate to occupations.

Combine Your Results

Combine your assessment results to create a list of best-fit occupations and majors.

Activity: Identify and Explore Occupations that Occur in Multiple Assessments

Complete several of the FOCUS 2 assessments. Click on Combining Assessments and select the assessments that you wish to combine. Print the occupation list that is generated by combining the assessments of your choice and then examine the list.

- Circle the occupations that immediately appeal to you.
- Underline the occupations that surprise you but sound interesting.
- Put an X through the occupations that do not appeal to you.

Examine the details of the occupations that you have circled and underlined.

What did you learn from this exercise?

What are your top 3 favorite occupations?

EXPLORE THE POSSIBILITIES:

FOCUS 2 CAREER offers a variety of tools to help you explore occupations and majors:

- Use What Can I Do with a Major In...? to learn about the majors offered at your college and the occupations associated with those majors and save those majors that appeal to you.

HELP FROM CAREER COUNSELORS/ADVISORS: COPING WITH OBSTACLES AND CONCERNS

Occasionally, you may foresee some possible barriers that could interfere with your ability to plan your career or you may have some concerns about your current career and education plans. You should discuss your concerns with a career counselor or an advisor.

Write an X next to any of the following you need help with:

____ Deciding on a major and career field

____ Taking the next steps to implement your career plan

____ Making plans for further education/ training

____ Other (please elaborate)

Place an "X" next to the items that apply to you:

____ I need more details about occupations, majors, education requirements, etc.

____ My self-assessment work interests scores are low or are not very different from each other.

____ The occupations that match myself assessments are too limited.

____ I have too many occupations that appeal to me. I need help narrowing down my choices.

____ I think the courses in my preferred major might be too difficult for me.

____ I need some advice about a personal situation affecting my career decision making.

____ Other people have to approve or support my plans.

____ I am experiencing financial problems.

____ Other? (Describe below)

CREATE A PLAN TO ACHIEVE YOUR OBJECTIVE

To assure systematic progress toward your goals, it is helpful to have an “Action Plan”. Complete the TAKE ACTION on the FOCUS 2 CAREER Dashboard to record your education plans, professional development plans and experiences you will pursue to support your career development. As you build your career development plan, you will want to reflect upon your long-term goals and the immediate steps you will take in the short term to achieve your goals. Follow these steps to help you work towards your goals:

- Step 1: Define your goal
- Step 2: List specific action steps
- Step 3: Identify resources that can help you achieve your goal
- Step 4: Set deadlines
- Step 5: Identify obstacles
- Step 6: Adapt as needed

Take Action To Do List

- Depending on the major(s) you are considering, you may need to complete time sensitive matters related to course work in your major, further education, certifications, etc. Find out what these deadlines are and plan ahead.
- Map out the courses you will take (and in what sequence) during your years at college in your preferred major. Be sure to include prerequisite courses as well. Include approximate dates and the support services you will utilize at your college to help you with your course plan and address any academic needs.
- Meet with the professors who teach courses in your preferred major to learn about career and internship opportunities. Seek their expert advice to learn how to succeed in your major and desired career field.
- Talk with students majoring in the field of study you are considering to learn from their experiences.
- Read the biographies of the professors who teach courses in the major field of study that is of interest to you.
- Find out about job shadowing, internships, externships and informational interviewing opportunities in a field of interest to you. Take note of the opportunities available and important dates.
- Conduct informational interviews with local employers to learn about their field of work. What positions exist in their company? What credentials do they seek in a candidate being considered for employment?
- Attend career fairs, industry panels, and company information sessions.

- Learn how to market yourself. Review your FOCUS 2 CAREER Portfolio assessment results. What are your strengths? Be able to describe your work interests, personality, skills and values and discuss why your attributes will be an asset to a potential employer.
- Learn about employers in a career field of interest to you.
- Talk with people employed in occupations/career fields that interest you. Find out what they studied in college and what experiences gave them a competitive edge in the world of work.
- Volunteer or take a part time job to gain experience in a career area of interest to you.
- Is additional training or graduate school a part of your long-term education plans? If so, what are your plans? Seek the advice of a professional/graduate school advisor to review your plans.

JOURNALING EXERCISES

Career Planning Readiness Journaling Exercises

Reflect upon how your personal background and experiences have influenced your career aspirations and choice of a major.

Describe a recent accomplishment in your life or one that you might like to achieve in the future.

What would you consider to be your greatest achievement in your life so far and why?

Reflect upon your past work, volunteer or internship experiences. What did you learn from these experiences that can help you in your decisions about your future career? What qualities are most important to you in your future work and career?

What steps will you take to improve your overall career planning readiness? (self-awareness, involvement in career exploration and career planning satisfaction)

Journaling Exercises

How will you apply what you have learned from yourself assessments to your choice of a major and your career plans?

What are the majors like that match your self-assessment results? What can you do with these majors?

Can you get a job with a bachelors in the major that most appeals to you? Do you need to get a Masters in the field that most interests you? Can you find employment in this region or will you need to move?

Which majors at your college best relate to your interests, personality, values, and skills?

Do yourself assessment results support your choice of a major?

Do yourself assessments support your career choices?

Did yourself assessment results suggest career options that you had not previously considered?

How will yourself assessment results help you to narrow your career options?

Work Interests Journaling Exercises:

What did you learn about yourself through your work interest self-assessment? How will these insights be helpful in your career exploration and choice of a major?
